To Be Kissed

I just like to be kissed,

I do — — —

I do — — —

Whether by a lover fond and true

Or anybody else ;
Only so he's nice
And has a long mustāche ,
And knows how to kiss —
Which many a one does not .

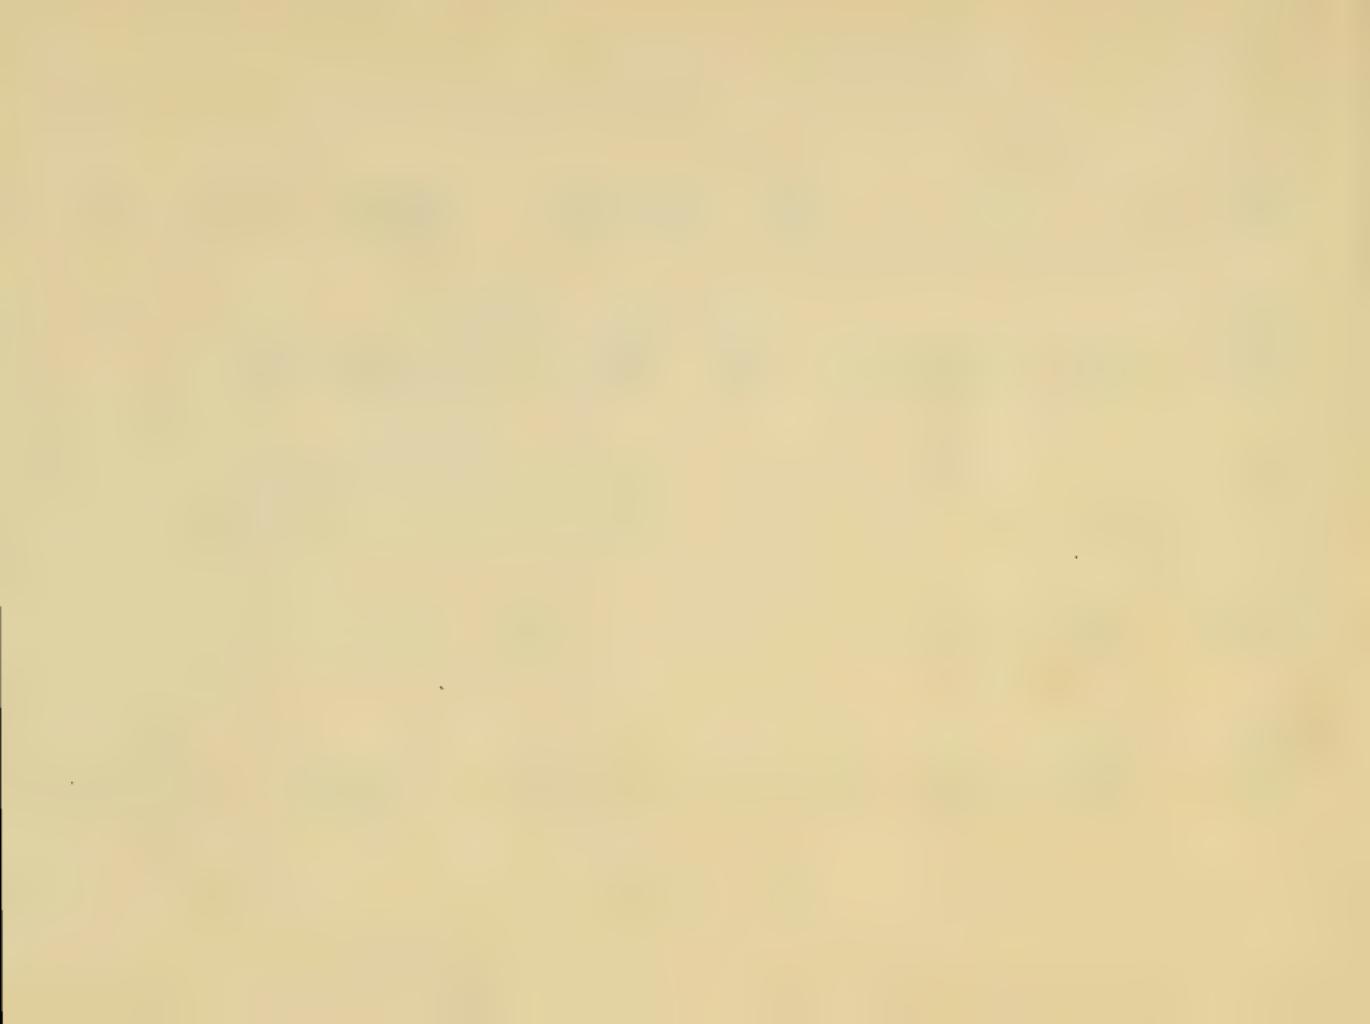

But when he does, ah me !

It's delicious to be kissed

It is x x x xx

It is x x x xx

He always holds you safe & sure,

Do you cant by any means escape,
How much or hard you try.
His arms are both around you,
Fastening you secure
And your heart is beating so

In your effort to get free:
Yet you do not wish to go.
Feeling happy through & through
For the coming expectation we
Though ashamed to face it, we.

Sweet anticipation ummm

Happy realization ummm

He's going to kiss you now.

But he's in no haste,

Not ha x x x x x x

Not he x x x x x x
Enjoying your confusion

And content to wait awhile.

He holds you to him close,
If you feel you've met your master,

While you let him kiss you,
Kiss you — — —
Kiss you — — —
and never say him nay,
For such a one will have his way

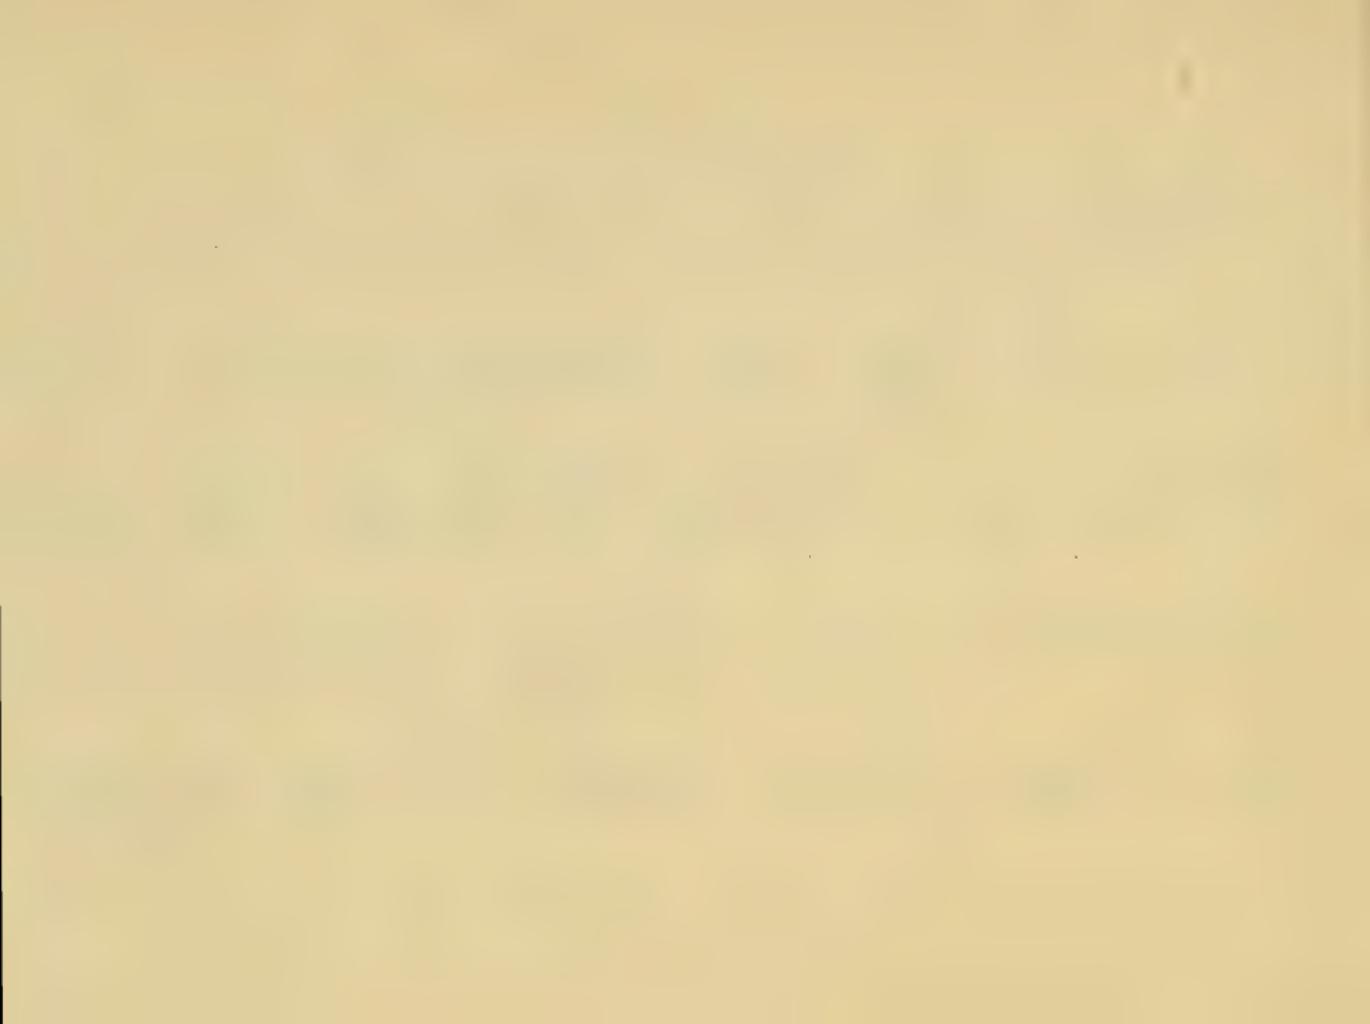

Whether or no mmmmmmm

Whether or no mmmmmmm

And you like to have it so

Whatever you may say.

He kisses you, and kisses you,

and kisses you,
Many times and long —
Holds you still, and kisses you again,
And once again.

But the time seems very short-

when you like the kissing

As I do — — —

As I do — — —

yes, I do like to be kissed long time and always —————

Like the soft, moist lips over mine
& the rough mustache against my cheek —
Like the closeness of the nearness,
Feel his breathing 'gainst my heart—
Like to hear him call me

"Daisy darling", "Sweetheart", "Dearest", and many a tender loves speech which all goes in with kissing —
Like the holding & caresses,
all the hugging and the kissing,

And the man who does it, too.

O, I just like to be kissed,

I do x x x x x

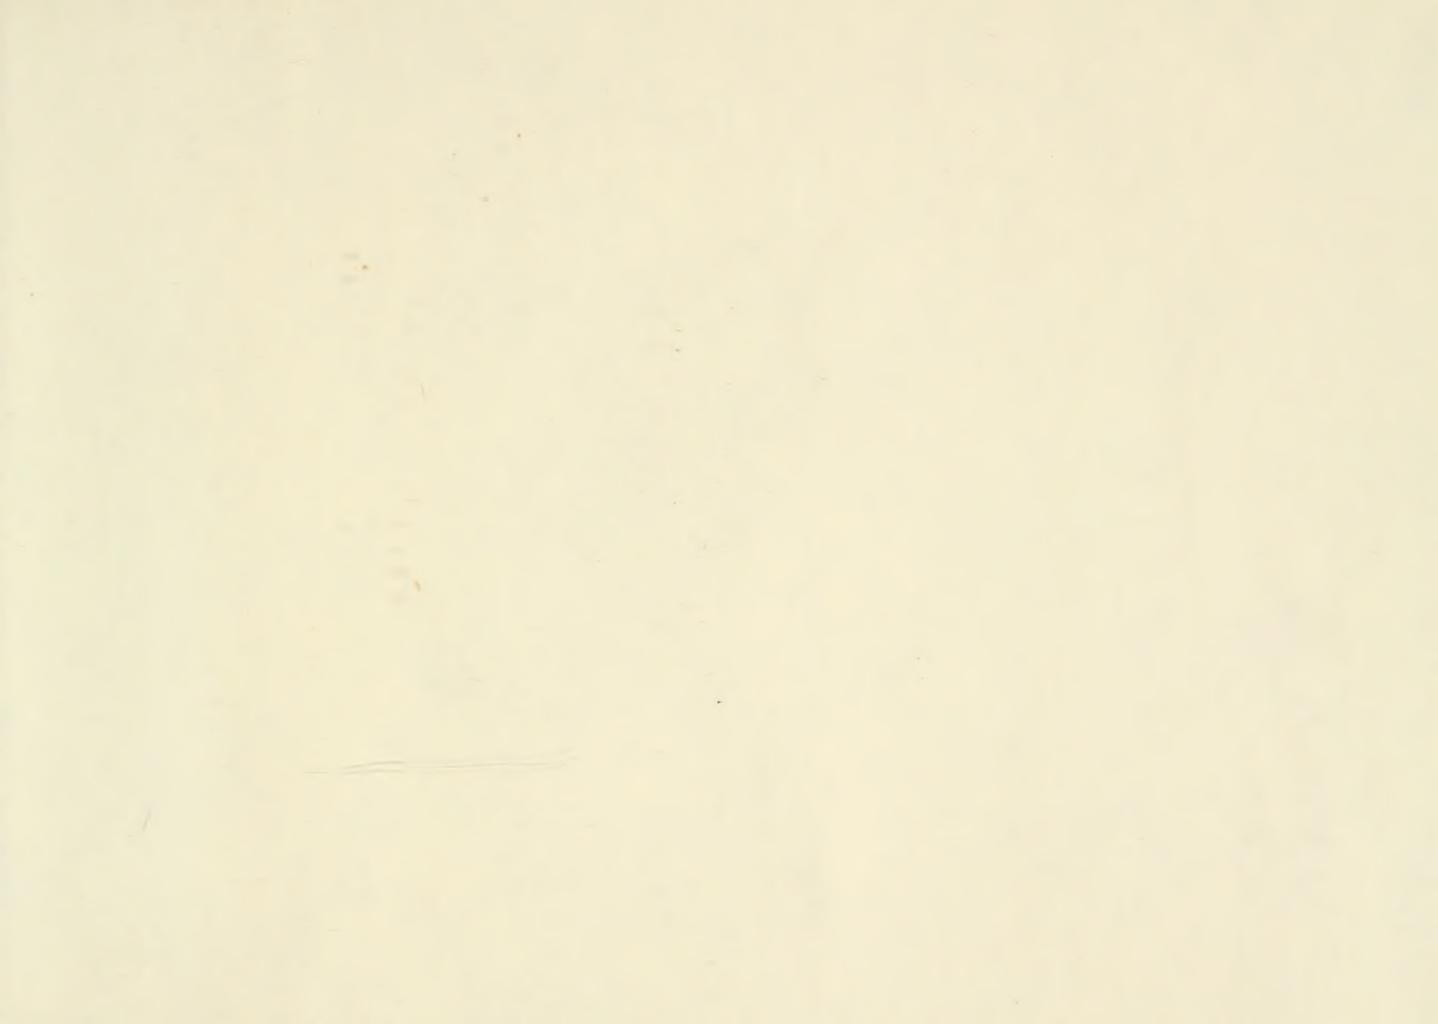

I do x x x x x

Like it more than almost anything.
